

Blog Entry Changes World

Okay, so maybe Dala won't change the world. We do hope that adding this blog to our site will prove to be a valuable resource for our clients, our colleagues, business contacts and anyone else that stumbles onto it. Can you find this information elsewhere? Sure. But you are here now, so you might as well continue reading, right?

Here's what you can expect to find here. Weekly tips for promoting your website, yourself, and your business. We hope you find our articles on website design, optimization, and promotion, not only engaging but entertaining and educational.

Check back weekly for new entries and occasional news about Dala, our clients, and our partners.

We are also in the process of lining up interesting guest writers so I don't get carpal tunnel. Okay, to keep it interesting.

If you have a suggestion on a topic, or have news you would like us to post here, please contact us.

Enjoy!
